5 Albert Square

The house was originally owned by Benny Bloom, who lived here with his wife Golda, but throughout the show's early history, this house was derelict and was used as a squatting by a number of homeless characters, including Rod Norman, Donna Ludlow, Mandy Salter and Aidan Brosnan.

Richard Cole bought the property in 1993 and converted it into bedsits. The house was later sold to Phil Mitchell. During its time as flats, it was lived in by Ricky Butcher and Bianca Butcher.

It was then converted into a semi-detached property and Phil and his wife Kathy lived here with their son Ben until Kathy left Phil and took Ben with her to South Africa. Phil then shared the house with his girlfriend Lisa Fowler and his godson Jamie also lived here. Other guests to stay with Phil have included his mother, Peggy Butcher Dan Sullivan, Conor Flaherty and Harry Slater. Phil later moved to the Queen Vic with Sharon Watts, and Steve Owen bought the house. He lived here alone, and later with Melanie Owen.

The house was then left empty until Den Watts' return from the 'dead'. He bought the house for his family, but when the family fell apart, Johnny Allen bought it. His daughter Ruby Allen and girlfriend Tina Stewart moved in soon after. Tina left Johnny, and Ruby moved in with her boyfriend Juley Smith, and then Ruby and Johnny left Walford to live in Essex. Johnny has since died in prison and Ruby moved in with the Slaters before leaving Walford for good.

The house, still owned by Ruby, was then left empty, until Max Branning, his wife Tanya Branning and children Abi Branning and Lauren Branning moved in in late June 2006. Max has since been kicked out upon the revelation of his affair with his daughter-in-law Stacey Slater, and, shortly after, Tanya's sister, Rainie Cross returned. Rainie was later asked to leave by Tanya as Max did not like the idea of an ex drug addict living with his children and was going to use that against Tanya to gain custody of his children. On 1 July 2008. Max announced he'd bought the house from Ruby. However, on July 3rd Max's brother Jack Branning announced that he had been in touch with Ruby and had beaten Max's bid for buying the house. The house was then occupied by Tanya, Jack, Abi, Lauren and baby Oscar until November 2008. In November 2008 Tanya confessed that she tried to murder ex-husband Max and was promptly banged up awaiting trial. On his release from hospital Max moved back into number 5 and evicted Jack (even although Jack still owns the property!). Jack then moved in to the property that Ronnie Mitchell rents from him. Unable to live with her father, Lauren Branning then moved in with Jack. After admitting to attempting to murder her father it became impossible for Lauren to stay in the square and she has been placed temporarily with foster parents.

The Miller family moved in in September 2004, and the house was occupied by Keith, Rosie, Mickey, Darren and Demi Miller. Demi's baby, Aleesha when she was born in October 2004, also lived here. A year later, Rosie's eldest daughter Dawn Swann also moved in when she returned to England from France. Rosie's ex-husband Mike Swann stayed with the Millers for a while, sleeping on their sofa. Keith temporarily moved out twice, once after Rosie almost had an affair with Mike, and again when Rosie kicked him out for deleting Mike's answering machine message to Dawn.

In July 2006 Rosie, Demi and Aleesha left to live in the Cotswolds. Dawn Swann left briefly and moved into number 3b with her then boyfriend Rob Minter, but then moved back with Rob in tow (briefly). In April 2007, Mickey and Li Chong moved in with Gus Smith. Mickey later moved back in, when Li left.

In 2008 Zainab, Shabnam and Tamwar Masood stayed with the Millers briefly. Almost straight after their departure Dawn's new boyfriend Jase Dyer and his son, Jay Brown moved in after being evicted from 15a Turpin Road, the flat above Beale's Plaice.

On 18 June 2008, the house exploded when May Wright lit a cigarette after leaving the gas cooker on without lighting it. As a result of the explosion, May was killed.

As of 23 June, the house underwent refurbishment from the council and Dawn, Jase and their children moved to 89 George Street.

Over the summer Suzy Branning purchased the house while under refurbishment and on 8 September 2008 moved in with her brother Max. In November, they were joined by Phil and Ben Mitchell. Max has since returned to the property, but moved out after punching Jack after he found out about his affair with Tanya.

31 Albert Square

31 Albert Square was once a vicarage, and home to Alex Healy. Phil Mitchell bought the house and rented it to Alex's father Jeff and sister Mel. In 2002, Phil moved in with his mother, Peggy and daughter Louise shortly after letting Alfie Moon take over the tenancy on the Queen Vic. Kate Morton also lived here before and during her Marriage to Phil. Peggy later left to tend to an injured Grant in Brazil.

When Phil was arrested for armed robbery, Kate moved out after handing Louise back to her mother, Lisa Shaw, leaving Phil's sister Sam on her own. She married Andy Hunter and he moved in with her. Sam was conned out of the Mitchell Empire by Phil's lawyer, Marcus Christie, and when Andy found this out, he threw her out.

Andy left the house to Pat Evans in his will, so when he was murdered, the house went to her. Billy Mitchell and his girlfriend Honey Edwards lived with Pat, but later moved out.

Pat thought that she could have some peace and quiet until Kevin Wicks, his children Carly and Deano, soon-to-be wife Denise, and her children Chelsea and Libby all moved in. Aubrey Valentine stayed there during his brief time in Walford, and Yolande Trueman also stayed there when her husband Patrick threw her out for having an affair with Aubrey. When everyone else went on holiday, Pat was glad to have the house to herself again, but Bert Atkinson asked to move in temporarily with his dying ex-wife, Evie. After Evie died in the living room, Bert moved out.

In October 2007, Deano and Chelsea were imprisoned for six months for attempting to pervert the course of justice and Kevin died on New Year's Eve, leaving Pat, Carly, Denise, Libby and the recently returned Chelsea as the occupants. Pat's grandson Steven Beale also stayed there until Ian asked him to move in with the Beales at number 45. Carly and Denise have left on a trip, and Chelsea and Libby have moved in with the Truemans, leaving Pat living there alone, so she invited Billy and Honey Mitchell to move back in with their children Janet and William, only to have Honey refuse, but after some intervention from The Mitchells, they accepted. In March 2008, Billy and Honey accepted an offer on a new flat close to the square and moved out.

April 2008 saw the return of Bianca Jackson. She is now living with Pat along with her four children, sons Liam and Morgan, daughter Tiffany and stepdaughter Whitney. Ricky Butcher, Bianca's ex-husband and Liam's father began staying there for several weeks but was thrown out by Bianca after he kissed her. Ricky moved back in after Archie Mitchell had evicted him from the Vic.

On 12 September, Bianca's partner Tony King moved in on his release from prison. However, once his affair with Whitney was revealed. He left in December 2008 but only a few days later, Janine Evans moved back in after becoming homeless due to her husband's death.

Natalie moved out when she and Barry broke up. Roy's other son Nathan Williams also lived her for a while.

When Roy died, Barry kicked Pat out of the house. Barry started a relationship with Janine Butcher, who moved in, but later was arrested for the murder of Laura Beale after Barry had died.

The house was bought by Johnny Allen who leased it to Alfie Moon. Alfie lived here with his brother Spencer, and grandmother Victoria. Victoria died in December 2005 and Alfie went to America with Kat. Alfie's cousins Jake and Danny Moon also lived here, until Danny was chased from the square by Johnny Allen. Jake lived here until his sharp exit in October 2006.

After Jake left, Ruby inherited the house from her father and lived there with her boyfriend Sean Slater, best friend Stacey, and her boyfriend Bradley. They all moved out when Ruby left Walford, and she planned to rent out the house. In July 2007, Kevin Wicks and his wife Denise had expressed an interest in purchasing the house. In September 2007, they were devastated when they discovered the property had been sold.

Several weeks later, The Masood family were revealed as the new owners of Number 41. Masood Ahmed, Zainab, and Tamwar Masood now live there. Masood and Zainab's daughter Shabnam also lived the house for a year before deciding to move to Pakistan.

On 5 June 2008, Keith Miller surprised the Masoods by moving himself in after being kicked out of his house by stepdaughter Dawn Swann. After Keith and Dawn's brother Mickey left for the Cotswolds, Dawn, Jase Dyer, Jay Brown and Dawn's baby Summer temporarily lived here after Number 27 was burnt down by Dr. May Wright and later refurbished. In December 2007, Sean Slater moved in. Gus had told him that he already had a new tenant lined up, but Sean went ahead with his plan to get his feet under the table, and had the locks changed. When Gus returned from visiting his Auntie that evening, Sean had moved himself in and gave a shocked Gus the first months rent upfront. Gus was speechless.

After numerous clashes with Sean and a hostage situation, Gus left Walford in May 2008 with Keisha to go on tour and left Wellard the dog in the care of Mickey Miller and Sean later moved back in with his family at Number 23.

Phil sold the upstairs flat to Sanjay and Gita Kapoor.

In 2008 43c was merged with 43b thus giving 43b an upstairs.

45 Albert Square

45 Albert Square ("Rosedene") has been home to the Beale family since the Second World War when it had an outside toilet. The property was owned by the council until 2004 when Pauline purchased it from them. Lou Beale lived here until she died in 1988. Her children Pauline and Pete were born in the house, and Pauline later lived here with her husband Arthur and their children Mark, Michelle and Martin. Mark and Michelle later moved out, and Arthur died. Pauline's friend Derek Harkinson moved in with her but moved out after an argument. Martin's wife Sonia also moved in, and Pauline handed over half the house to Martin and Sonia. Sonia left Martin for Naomi Julien and moved out again. Pauline's new husband Joe Macer and his friend Bert Atkinson since moved in, but in April 2006 Pauline kicked them both out after her discovery of their criminal past and dumped them on Dot and Jim Branning. Pauline eventually relented and let Joe return home in June 2006.

Pauline lived in the house alone again after learning that Martin and Sonia were back together. She accidentally started a fire in the kitchen, but she continued to live there alone. Pauline was due to go to America on Christmas Day 2006, and packed all her things, but died in the square after arguing with Sonia in the living room, which ended in Pauline getting slapped and both her, and her treasured fruit bowl smashed off of the ground and also with Joe (off-screen). Martin then set about clearing all her belongings out of the house.

On 26 January 2007, Joe confessed to Dot that he had caused Pauline's death by hitting her with a frying pan. Dot tried to tell her husband Jim but Joe covered her mouth. Jim freed Dot and in the struggle, Joe fell through the bedroom window and onto the Fowler family run market stall, and died instantly.

In Pauline's will, she left her half of the house to Martin. The mortgage was now paid through an insurance policy of Pauline's. Pauline's will, however, stated that Martin would lose his right to her half of the house if he lived there with Sonia. Sonia, Martin and Rebecca left Walford. The will stated that if Martin was denied his right to the house, it was to go to his cousin, Ian Beale, who moved in and currently lives there with his family. The house was then currently empty, although Pauline's ashes remained on the mantelpiece until Dot Cotton buried them by Arthur Fowler, who was Pauline's first husband. While it was empty, Peter Beale and Jay Brown broke in, as did Max Branning and Stacey Slater. Honey Mitchell expressed interest in renting it from Ian but Ian refused to rent to the Mitchells.

In April, Ian decided to move in there himself with his family, but Peter and Lucy refused because they believed the ghost of Pauline would haunt them. Eventually Ian gave the ashes to Dot and Peter and Lucy agreed that as Pauline's ashes were no longer in the house, she would not haunt them.

Ian has since realised the living room and the dining room were too small so he knocked the wall out between the two rooms to make more room. When the house was owned by Pauline, the living room was used as a bedroom, for when Pauline's son and family lived there. When Ethel Skinner was gravely ill, Pauline let her live there. Ethel asked Dot Cotton to euthanise her on her 80th birthday, and after a while, reluctantly agreed. The dining room was used both as a living room and a dining room, where Pauline's treasured fruit bowl sat on the table for years. The kitchen has now been re-fitted and the old fireplace in the kitchen has been raised up a bit since Pauline lived there. There are now three bedrooms – the master, Lucy's, which she now shares with Bobby, and the attic conversion that Joe and Bert made, shared by Steven and Peter until Steven's departure..

The people currently living here are Jane, Peter, and Bobby Beale. Jane's brother, Christian turned up in January 2008 and lived with them for a month, sleeping on the sofa until Ian leased the flat above to him. Lucy stayed with Christian for several months but moved back in and recently in November 2008, Jane and Christian's mother Linda Clarke had moved in, but later decided to move in with Christian at his flat, she then moved back again after falling out with Christian again.

*Current Residents: Ian, Jane, Lucy, Peter and Bobby Beale and Linda Clarke.

In February 2008 Shirley asked Heather to leave the flat, intending Deano to move in once he was released from prison. Deano had other ideas and left Walford, leaving his mum alone.

On 11 March 2008, Shirley was evicted from the top floor flat by her landlord Norman. Norman explained to Shirley at the time that he needed to live there after being caught cheating by his wife.

Victoria Road

55 Victoria Road

She sold it to the Karims in 1989 and it was later bought by Rachel Kominski in 1990. Michelle Fowler lodged with her daughter Vicki as did Shelley Lewis, until Michelle's brother Mark bought the house in 1995. Mark then lived here with his wife Ruth, although they rented the property to Huw Edwards and Lenny Wallace from 1996-1997 to earn some extra money. During Huw and Lenny's tenancy, Alan Jackson stayed in the house, as did the singer Frankie Pierre. Mark and Ruth returned to the premises in 1997. Their foster daughter Jessie Moore lived with them for a brief period and after Mark and Ruth's marriage broke down Mark moved out and Louise Raymond lodged here with Ruth and so did Mark's cousin Conor Flaherty. Ruth moved to Scotland in 1999 after having an affair with Conor and becoming pregnant by him, so Mark moved back in.

Garry Hobbs and his fiancée Lynne lived with Mark for a while and Lisa Shaw moved in after falling out with her boyfriend Phil Mitchell. Lisa and Mark lived together with Lisa and Phil's daughter Louise. Lisa later got back with Phil, and Mark went travelling in February 2003, so the house was left empty for a while.

The Ferreira family moved in, in 2003, but the house was repossessed and they were forced to move out a year later. The house was then bought by Ian Beale who lived here with wife Jane and children Lucy, Peter and Bobby. Ian's younger brother Ben stayed here when Ian brought him back from South Africa after his mother and stepfather were killed, but he later decided to live with his father, Phil at the Queen Vic. Ian, Jane and the children moved into 45 Albert Square, and the house was rented to Danny and Jess Fuller. The Fullers have since left Walford to be nearer their daughter's school, leaving the property empty. Denise and Kevin Wicks approached Ian about buying number 55, but Kevin died and Denise left, so doubtless that the arrangement has fallen through.

The current occupants are unknown however it was revealed on 27 November 2008 that there were tenants occupying the house but called Ian to inform him that they were moving out.

15a Turpin Road

The flat above was originally inhabited by Ian Beale, his children and their nanny Laura Dunn from when Ian went bankrupt in 2000 until he became solvent in 2004, when he moved into his cousin Mark Fowler's old house. Alfie and Spencer Moon later moved into the flat with their grandmother and cousins Jake and Danny after Den Watts evicted them, following his dishonest acquisition of the Queen Vic. The Moons lodged there until Johnny Allen agreed to lease Number 15a to Alfie, after Nana had been attacked by a burglar.

In February, 2007 Bert Atkinson and his grandson Jay moved in. In July, Bert moved on and Jay's father Jase Dyer moved in and took over the tenancy until February 2008, when Ian evicted Jase and Jay and later let the place to his brother-in-law, Christian Clarke. Lucy Beale was sent to stay with Christian, at Ian's request, but moved back home after two months.
